1903

REPORT OF THE LIBRARIAN.

AUGUST 1, 1901—JULY 31, 1902.

To the President and Fellows of Yale University:

GENTLEMEN:—During the year ending July 31, 1902, there have been added to the Library by purchase, including 585 volumes placed in the Linonian and Brothers Library, 6,465 volumes, and by gift 3,544 volumes and 12,325 pamphlets.

While these numbers do not vary greatly from the averages of recent years, by bequest of the late Edward Wells Southworth, of New York (Y. C. 1875), the Library fund will receive the large increase of $150,000. By the terms of the will one-half the income is to be devoted to Belles-Lettres; the other half may be expended at the discretion of the Library Committee either for books or for administration. While the magnitude of the bequest was altogether a surprise, Mr. Southworth had more than once given proof of his interest in the Library, and in the last report acknowledgment was made of his gift of $1,000 for English literature.

Mr. George E. Dimock (Y. C. 1874) has again distributed, as he did last year, the sum of $1,250 among the seminary libraries of the University.

The death, 13 Feb., 1903, of Mr. J. Sumner Smith, Assistant Librarian, removes the seal of anonymity which during his life he so rigidly impressed upon his more than generous gifts to the Library, one of which—$900 for the department of music—falls within the limits of the present report. The farther account of his self-sacrificing devotion to its service is reserved for the next report.

Of the gifts of books received during the year the following are some of the more noteworthy:

From Mr. Edward Bement, of New York.—A fine series of Dibdin's bibliographical works, eleven volumes.

From Albert H. Buck, M.D., of New York.—A collection of medical works, relating chiefly to otology, consisting of ninety-eight volumes and five hundred and eighty-eight pamphlets.

From Miss Roxana C. Cowles, of Ipswich, Mass.—Ninety volumes of oriental philology and literature.

From Mrs. Carroll Cutler, of Glen Ridge, N. J.—Thirty-seven volumes, mainly of Romance philology.

From Professor Henry W. Farnam.—Volkswirtschaftliche Abhandlungen der Badischen Hochschulen; Münchener Volkswirtschaftliche Studien; Abhandlungen aus dem staatswissenschaftlichen Seminar zu Strassburg; together eighty-one volumes or parts. Also the continuations of several other economic and statistical series given by him in past years.

From Professor Irving Fisher.—One hundred and twenty-five volumes of economic and mathematical publications.

From Horace Howard Furness, LL.D., of Philadelphia.—The new variorum edition of Shakespeare, as far as published, fourteen volumes.

From His Honor Mayor Carter H. Harrison, of Chicago.—An interesting collection of photographs, mounted in a quarto volume, showing the construction of the Chicago Sanitary and Ship Canal.

From Mr. Archer M. Huntington, of New York.—Five facsimile reproductions of rare works belonging to his unrivaled Spanish library.

From Mr. Arthur P. Lord, of Paris.—One hundred and twenty-seven volumes, mainly of French history.

From the Duc de Loubat, of Paris.—A facsimile of the Mexican Codex Fejérváry-Mayer, the fifth of this valuable series of reproductions which we have received from him.

From Rev. Charles Ray Palmer, D.D., of New Haven.—One hundred and sixty-two volumes, mostly periodical publications.

From Professor William Lyon Phelps.—The edition of Richardson's Novels, 19 vols., published under his editorship by Croscup & Sterling.

From Mr. Theodore D. Rogers and Mr. Samuel T. Rogers, of Bridgeport.—The manuscript diary of their ancestor, Rev. Medad Rogers (Y. C. 1777), covering a portion of his college life and the period from 1786 to 1819.

From Edmund Clarence Stedman, LL.D., of New York.—The manuscript from which his "Mater Coronata" was recited at the Bicentennial Celebration; also New England Society Orations, 2 vols.

From Mrs. William H. Thomson, of New Haven.—Two hundred and eighty-six volumes, chiefly medical and including many serial publications.

From Mr. John H. Webster, of Cleveland.—The current publications of the Rowfant Club, including the Rowfant reprint of "The Dial."

From Rev. Paul P. Waldenström, D.D., of Upsala.—Dahlberg, Svecia Antiqua et Hodierna, 4°.

From Mr. Roger S. White, of New Haven.—A very complete file of the Connecticut Journal, 1792-1828.

Among the more important purchases are the following:

La grande encyclopédie, vol. 1-30, 4°; Publicationen aus den preussischen Staatsarchiven, 73 vols.; Victoria History of the Counties of England, Cumberland, vol. I, Northampton, vol. I, Worcester, vol. I; Pitt-Rivers, Archæological works, 7 vols.; Dupaix, Antiquités Mexicaines, 2 vols. fol.; Doughty, Siege of Quebec and Battle of the Plains of Abraham, 6 vols.; Kashmirian Atharva-Veda, reproduced by chromophotography, 3 pts. 4°; Codices Graeci et Latini photographice depicti, v. 7, Tacitus, 2 pts. fol.; Archivio paleografico Italiano, fasc. 1-17, fol.; École française d'Athènes, Mélanges d'archéologie et d'histoire, 13 vols.; Excavations at Assos, pt. 1, 4°; Bohn, Die Propylæen der Akropolis zu Athen, fol.; Koldewey and Puchstein, Die griechischen Tempel in Unteritalien und Sicilien, 2 vols. fol.; Bullettino della Commissione Archeologica Comunale di

Roma, 28 vols.; Froehner, La colonne trajane, 5 vols. fol.; Eckhel, Choix de pierres gravées du cabinet impérial de Vienne, fol.; Pfnor, Monographie du château d'Anet, fol.; Fritsch, Denkmäler deutscher Renaissance, 3 vols. fol.; Gotch, Architecture of the Renaissance in England, 2 vols. fol.; Soderholtz and Elwell, Colonial Architecture and Furniture, 3 vols. fol.; Rooses, Fifty masterpieces of Anthony Van Dyck, 4°; Novello, Early Bodleian Music, 2 vols. fol.; Nuova Antologia, 182 vols.; Revue retrospective, 20 vols.; Anglo-Saxon Review, 10 vols.; Chemiker-Zeitung, 43 vols.; Botanisches Centralblatt, 97 vols.; Payer, Traité d'organogénie comparée de la fleur, 2 vols.; Mémoires and Bulletin de l'Académie Royale de Médecine, Paris, 65 vols.; Boston Gazette, 1766-1775, 171 nos.

The special contribution of the Library to the Bicentennial celebration of the University was an exhibition of manuscript documents, books and other objects, having relation to the early history of the College. Some of this material had been loaned for the occasion, and of that which was the property of the University a great part had never been placed on exhibition, at least in any collective way. To name but a few items of the list, there were autograph letters of the founders, and books from their libraries—some of them perhaps the identical copies given “for the founding of a College in this Colony”; the original charter of the College; the first diplomas granted; the manuscript catalogue sent with Bishop Berkeley's memorable gift of books in 1733; broadside catalogues and other early publications of the College; a series of the text-books in use during the eighteenth century; early views of the College; and the doors of the parsonage at Branford in which the first formal meeting of the Trustees was held. The selection and arrangement of the material for this very interesting exhibition fell naturally to Professor Dexter.

The greetings sent to the University on this occasion by other institutions—from the old world and the far east as well as from our own land—were also placed on view in the Library. Quite apart from the sentiments which they conveyed, the display was impressive from the number and the rank of the institutions represented, and attractive from the outward grace of form with which many of the greetings were clothed.

Add to this that the Library was also the place of registration for the five thousand graduates in attendance, and it will not appear strange that it should have been thronged during that week as never before.

The recent offer of the Library of Congress to furnish to other libraries, at a price barely covering the cost of distribution, the printed catalogue cards prepared for its own use, was of such evident advantage in our own case as to secure a prompt acceptance. These cards cover not only the current accessions, copyright and other, of the Congressional Library, but also keep pace with the reclassification in progress there, and will in the end form a complete catalogue of the library. From the proof sheets sent us day by day we select such titles as we require, order by number simply, and within a week the printed cards are in our hands. They not only save us the labor of cataloguing an appreciable part of our new accessions, but we use them also, and to a much greater extent, to replace our written cards, both because they are more legible, and because they give contents and bibliographical details more fully. In these ways we have found use during the eight months since the service began for nearly 14,000 of these printed cards.

During the winter term a course of eight lectures on bibliographical topics was offered by Mr. Andrew Keogh, of the Library staff, and was followed by an average of fifty graduate students, a very gratifying attendance.

The usual appendices, containing the annual list of donations and the report of the Law School Library, follow.

Respectfully submitted,

ADDISON VAN NAME.

REPORT OF THE LIBRARIAN OF THE LAW SCHOOL

AUGUST 1, 1901—JULY 31, 1902.

To the President and Fellows of Yale University:

GENTLEMEN :—During the year ending July 31, 1902, 693 volumes and 93 pamphlets have been added to the Library. Of these, 262 volumes and all the pamphlets were gifts. Among the gifts may be mentioned the Session Laws and Public Documents of California for the years 1876 to 1901, 84 volumes, given by the state; the Public Documents and Official Publications of Connecticut, 16 volumes, given by the Connecticut State Library; similar documents and publications of Illinois, 11 volumes, given by the state; the publications of the Selden Society, 14 volumes, given by Charles E. Shepard, Esq., of Seattle, Washington, together with membership in the society to the year 1930, including the right to receive its publications.

M. Dwight Collier, Esq., of New York City, has in this, as in former years, given the reports of cases decided by the Supreme Court of Missouri and by the Courts of Appeals of that state, 11 volumes.

An attempt has been made during the year to secure the statutes of the several states as published from time to time by the states. This has been partially successful, but in many states the free distribution of such matter is prohibited by law. We have, however, this year received such matter from California, Connecticut, Delaware, Idaho, Illinois, Indiana, Maine, Maryland, Massachusetts, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New York, North Dakota, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, Tennessee, Texas, and Vermont. The state of Texas continues to supply its reports as well as its statutes.

Mr. A. S. Wheeler, instructor in Roman Law, offered to place his private collection of Roman Law books in the Law School building and it has accordingly been placed in a separate room which has been fitted with shelves to receive the books and with a table to facilitate their use. Mr. Wheeler retains the custody of the books and will admit his students and other investigators to the use of them as he may see fit. The librarian has had the books arranged in order and a card list of them made. The collection contains about 1,000 volumes.

Progress has been made with the card catalogue, and it is hoped that it may be completed next year. Wherever possible, use has been made of the printed cards distributed by the Library of Congress. For this and other clerical work in the Library it has been found necessary to employ extra clerical assistance, and the librarian believes that such assistance should be regularly employed to secure efficiency in library administration.

Respectfully submitted,
PHILIP P. WELLS.
